Celebrity International and Lenberg Farms Classic Reserve Win Among Canada's Finest Cheeses at the British Empire Cheese Competition

Lindsay, Ontario - Canada's longest running cheese show held its annual meeting on November 15, marking the 85th year of The British Empire Cheese Competition, held by the Central Ontario Cheese Maker Association. Winners of three awards at the show were the product lines of Celebrity International and Lenberg Farms Classic Reserve from Mariposa Dairy.

Lenberg Farms Classic Reserve has seen an impressive number of accomplishments this year, from the American Cheese Society Conference in August to The Royal 2012 competition. Taking home two awards during The British Empire Cheese Competition, Lenberg Farms celebrated the award-winning Tania Aged Sheep's Milk Cheese, which placed first in the Artisan Sheep Milk Cheese category. The Lindsay Bandaged Cheddar placed third in the Artisan Goat Milk Cheese category. All Artisan cheeses in the competition followed a set of strict guidelines; each are handcrafted and made from 100% Ontario goat or sheep-milk making Lenberg Farms Classic Reserve cheeses home to the best artisanal cheeses in Canada.

Celebrity International continues to make its mark on the goat cheese industry, this time taking home first place for their new and unique Chocolaty Cherry Temptation goat cheese in the Open Goat Milk Cheese category.

Both Lenberg Farms Classic Reserve and Celebrity International products are created by Mariposa Dairy and are distributed exclusively by Atalanta and Finica Food Specialties in North America. Known for their high-quality, hand-crafted cheeses, Mariposa Dairy is capping off 2012 as a remarkably successful year, with six wins at the American Cheese Society Awards, and an astonishing 11 awards at The Royal Agricultural Fair held in November in Toronto, Canada.

The winners from The British Empire Cheese Competition join an extensive and accomplished line of cheeses made by Mariposa Dairy.
